CENTRAL SERVICE

Association of Hospital Central Service Management, we keep abreast of changes that may affect us.

Central service professionals can assure that safe, timely, effective and low-cost supplies and equipment are provided for patient care. We are most definitely a part of the health care team.

As long as equipment and instruments need to be cleaned, sterilized and distributed in hospitals, central service has a definite future.

Wade D. Collins is director of central supply at the Texas Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children in Dallas.

percent of the membership), it's possible that some government hospitals are included in the "non-profit" category. Most hospitals (92 percent) expect to retain their current ownership status.

The Strategic Planning Steering Committee, chaired by Larry L. Mathis, FACHE, president of The Methodist Hospital in Houston, used this information in formulating the THA Strategic Plan. This plan will be presented at the upcoming House of Delegates meeting.

May is High Blood Pressure Month.

Control your high blood pressure by cutting down on salt. Use spices to flavor your food, and treat yourself to life!
